"2018 has been an incredible year for PCMS. We have landed a record number of new clients, have been recognized as a Top WorkPlace in Greater Cincinnati, and have received recognition as a commerce technology leader by several major analyst reports. Blue Ash gives us the perfect base to continue to grow. We thought very carefully about what we needed in the location of our new North American Headquarters. The central location and easy accessibility, the option to explore Summit Park, and the growing tech presence in the area all factored into our selection."

— Andy Winans, CEO, PCMS

Work progressing at Neighborhoods at Summit Park site

The 98-acres next to Summit Park is transforming into a vibrant development called "The Neighborhoods of Summit Park," bringing a walkable, urban atmosphere to the heart of Blue Ash.

Construction is currently underway on the mixed-use building called "The Approach at Summit Park," which will include luxury apartments, commercial space, and a parking structure. According to developer Al Neyer, the first apartment units are scheduled to become available in late 2019. Plans are currently also underway to bring unique dining options to The Approach at Summit Park, as well as other interesting commercial uses.
