There were different ideas from the group that involved creating a website or a separate Facebook page to post upcoming calendar events for the art community in Elko.

Ms. Wines said the board’s focus will be on the arts calendar and how to improve and create the calendar.

Bailey Billington-Benson suggested getting events together a month before and having their events sent to the Arts and Culture board to put on the calendar.

Councilwoman Simon suggested the board setting up a quarterly special meeting to come together for plans on events.
