CIRCUIT COURT OF MADISON COUNTY

There are three levels of Illinois Courts: Supreme Court, Appellate Court, and Circuit Court.

The Supreme Court is the highest court in the state of Illinois. The Supreme Court has general administrative and supervisory authority over all courts in the state of Illinois.

The Appellate Court hears appeals from the Circuit Court. There are five appellate court districts in Illinois. Madison County is part of the Fifth Appellate District, located in Mt. Vernon.

The Third Judicial Circuit of Illinois is one of 22 circuits into which the legislature has divided the state for administrative purposes. Each circuit is made up of one to twelve counties, depending upon county population. The Third Circuit consists of Madison and Bond Counties.

There are 9 Circuit Judges in the Third Circuit, each elected to a six-year term by the voters of the circuit. There are 13 Associate Judges who are selected by the Circuit Judges.

The Chief Judge presides over the Circuit Court, subject to the overall administrative authority of the Supreme Court. He/she is selected by fellow Circuit Judges to be Chief Judge, usually for a two-year term. The Honorable William Mudge is currently the Chief Judge of the Third Circuit.

Circuit Judges may hear any type of case assigned to them. Associate Judges may hear any matter assigned to them, except the trial of a felony case in which the defendant is charged with an offense punishable by imprisonment for more than one year. Associate Judges may be given special permission from the Supreme Court to hear felony cases.

The Circuit Clerk is the keeper of the records and funds of the Circuit Court and is responsible for the filing and processing of thousands of cases each year. He/she is elected by the voters of Madison County to a four-year term. Thomas McRae is the current Circuit Clerk.
