

Reston Town Center

Fairfax County, Virginia

About the Development

Reston Town Center is a 460 acre mixed-use development in Fairfax County, Virginia in the suburbs of Washington D.C. The Reston Town Center is also a transit oriented district and will have access to Washington D.C. via Washington Metro in 2018.

Residential Development

359 multi-family units built

Commercial Development

3.7 million square feet of mostly office space with some retail

Commercial Tenants

50+ retailers
30 restaurants
Movie theatre
Hyatt Regency Hotel

Access to Transportation

9 miles (15 min.) to U.S. I-66
12 miles (16 min.) to U.S. I-495 Capital Beltway
6 miles (8 min.) Dulles International Airport

Milestones of the Development

- Late 1970's - Planning began
- 1988 - Construction began
- 1990 - Phase I (20 acres, 510,000 square feet of commercial space) complete
- 2000 - Phase II construction began
- 2004 - Phase II built to completion

Reston Town Center

