RANCHO SIMI RECREATION AND PARK DISTRICT ANNOUNCES INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY ADVANCEMENTS

The Rancho Simi Recreation and Park District (RSRPD) continually strives to implement state-of-the-art technology when cost effective to increase efficiencies for residents, vendors and staff. Several enhancements have recently been made at the Park District to provide greater accessibility and reduce waste and turnaround times.

Among them is the new online Request For Proposals (RFP) bidding system. Bid packages were previously only available in hard-copy format through the District main office. Now, bid packages regarding all Park District open RFP's can be immediately accessed online via their website at https://rsrpd.org/staff_and_board/bids_and_proposals.php.

In 2020, the District also implemented new Park Ranger reporting software, equipping Rangers with tablets that have immediate access to a database of important information. This valuable tool allows Rangers and staff to easily review activity by incident type and location in order to place resources where needed most.

And in an effort to "Go Green" the Park District utilizes new document storage and organization software which reduces the need for storing paper copies and allows for quick retrieval of files resulting in increased employee productivity.

The District also recently implemented a free e-notify system that allows email subscribers to keep up do date on all of their favorite Park District programs, activities, meetings and events by sending an automatic email anytime a webpage they have selected is updated or a new item is posted. To subscribe, visit www.rsrpd.org/enotify/index.php.
