Wakulla County Resource Directory

A guide to agencies and providers of youth and family services developed by the

Wakulla County Coalition for Youth

This community resource directory was produced by the Wakulla County Coalition for Youth as a public service. It contains a listing of programs and services available in Wakulla County and surrounding communities. The directory will also be available on the coalition's web site at wakullacoalition.com.

The guide was made possible by the Wakulla County Coalition for Youth, which is a group of community volunteers and professionals who represent health and social service agencies from both the state and local level. The Coalition is an advocate for the well-being of children and families in Wakulla County – meaning happy, healthy, and thriving. The Wakulla County Coalition for Youth works collaboratively across agency and provider networks to prevent youth use of substances and other high risk behaviors. While most youth grow up to be successful and happy adults, those who begin heavy drinking before the age of 15 are five times more likely to become substance dependent into adulthood putting them among the 6-8% of the population seriously addicted and faced with the most serious of consequences.... economic deprivation, criminal behavior, family disintegration. The Coalition exists to halt that pathway, and it is widely understood that when we prevent youth use of substances, we also reduce violence, truancy, drop-out, teen pregnancy and failure. Coalition leaders seek to inculcate healthy life choices.

The Coalition is very aware of family stresses and economic pressures that get in the way of parenting. Being a parent, modeling behaviors you want to see in your children, making sure they know of them by being firm, being clear and being consistent takes time and practice, and sometimes help from outside. Use this guide for help when you need it for you or your family. Parenting is not an easy job, but it is the most important job you will ever have. Prevention begins at home, whether it's preventing diabetes or injury or violence or flu or failure. This guide should prove a helpful resource.

Printing was possible with funding from the Florida Department of Children and Families and Tobacco Prevention Program of Wakulla County.

The WCCY does not warrant that this information is accurate or complete; however, every effort was made to provide an up-to-date resource guide for families and youth of Wakulla County. It does not assume any liability resulting from the release or use of any data or information published here.
